

Hello, kids!

I'm still waiting for some of you to join our Google Classroom, because while our brand-new Office 365 is being prepared, we'll be working there and on Zoom.

This homework you can do in the Google document that I posted in our Google Classroom:

This is an interactive document. You can add your comments here. How about that? ;)

First you study the material from page 88 in your textbook.

Then let's do a present simple chain. You always contradict what was said before (it's a little conversation). Use your names. You can always add a new line and switch the conversation.

For example,

Teacher: I want real school.

X: No, you don't. You want a holiday.

Y: She doesn't want a holiday. She wants a new car.

We'll talk on Zoom on Friday. Have your textbooks with you! We're going to read and do exercises. Everyone is going to participate.

I miss you! See you on Friday 10 o'clock on Zoom! Teacher.
